Professional capabilities

Bespoke dimensions

LUYA can evaluate product dimensions against the project and develop suitable custom sizing where technically producible. Product identity, proportion and structural logic remain the reference.

Product specification

Online product pages provide dimensions, product codes, material information, imagery, technical sheets and selection tools.

Materials

Product-specific materials and finishes are shown from the actual material data associated with each product. Generic colour promises are avoided.

CAD / BIM

CAD/BIM files are supplied only where real production files exist. Professionals can request files through the LUYA resource and A&D channels; placeholder technical files are not published.
